

Faith, hope against any hope

The essential in the Christian life is that you learn to stay in place, the right place is the one that has been giving to you by your duty that you have to accomplish, in front of God your right place is the last, because you are a sinner.

Jesus was God, He annihilated Himself by join with human nature, worked in the joiner shop to earn a living for himself and his mother. Padre Pio said: when Jesus walked in the village and encountered His relatives, He gave his best regards, they instead didn't answered because they felt ashamed of Him He was very poor' Padre Pio said that our Lady in all her life had never wear sandals, she didn't had money to buy it, she walked bare foot in winter time with intense cold and in summer on a hot path. They belonged to the class of the poor. According to the people they firmly believed, the poor were curse from God for their sins. (If you want to know more, read the book of Job, the chapter were his friends said: that the misfortune that struck Job came from God because Job seriously sinned ).

I think that this experience that Jesus made, created in His heart a huge love, a love of privilege for the poor and humble "whom will exalt himself will be humiliated from God, the one who is humble, will be exalted". God will raise exceptionally to glory those whom are choosing to live humbly and poor.

Humility conquered voluntarily is not other then justice, it makes you be who you really are . If you practice and live in justice, it will make you "Justify" in front of God.

The justification does not excuse your sins, is the fruit of the merciful God. It'll become perfect when Jesus become your justice, "I and my Father will dwell in you". Your sins will be absorb from His death on the Cross, your death will be absorb in His resurrection. When you'll be with the risen Jesus, the lust, the pleasure of the flesh will not attract. The battle against "The demand of the flesh and blood" will end forever. Then the perfect justice will be in you: you will be what you have done on earth> Your actions will qualify you in front of God for whom you are.

In this little day the remaining that you have to live, devote it to spiritual energy to conquer justification. Humility will not consent to rely on your strength, but in the obedience of the word of God.

The devil is battling alone against you, you instead are in Christ and His word. The devil is an enemy astute and expert, if you are alone, he will certainly win . If you are in the humbly obedience to the word of God, the love of Christ in you, will make refuse the diabolic attractiveness that the devil presents.

Refinement. The Risen Jesus, since eternity, He established for you the life on earth, where you have to win the bad strength so to deserve eternal life.

we will never understand the genuine value of Christianity and the Christian moral. The Christian vocation that develop through faith, it makes you capable to live eternally, with Angels and Saints.

Try to go deep into proposition that the Lord asks of you: You can establish your faith from the deeds that you are doing. Your work establish even your malice. Way faith? You believe to whom the work you follow and follow the work of whom you believe in what His saying. As you advance in life, will form the believe that takes you to finish the work to its correspondent. Your believe can born from the experience and desire that the materialistic world, immoral and unchristian is offering you. The point of reference remain always the same: Pride and freedom uncontested thought and action. The convincement that are formed from the word of God, are veiled beneath the promise of the Kingdom of God from the Lord Jesus.

Its necessary that you believe to yourself even if you see the nothing of your been, for the cause of you fragility. The risen Jesus promised you, divine progeny if your are listing to His words and put it in practicing. Saint Paul said that the children of God have the right to His inheritance. The greatest faith is the one that you got in front of oppression and slavery that you feel in your fragility. The faith that the risen Jesus require from you is this: you have to believe that, with the help of the Grace, you will make to conquer those virtue that seems to you impossible to conquer.

The Sacred Scripture said that the real faith will be carry out in the hope against any hope. The real faith will make you believe that one day God will give success to you constant commitment to solve the problems of spiritual life impossible to solve.

Pray, and you will see that the risen Jesus, in the impossible shipwreck, will light up in you the light of hope, the hope that, through faith, becomes certainty.
